DETAILED ACTION

Claims 9-12 pending in the instant application.

Response to Amendment

1. Receipt is acknowledged of Applicants' Response, submitted January 12, 2005, which has been reviewed by the Examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claims 9-12 previously rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as not being enabled. In view of the Applicants' persuasive arguments, the Examiner withdraws the rejections of the claims.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 9-12 are allowable, as newly renumbered claims 1-4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

This invention relates to methods of using a novel salt of 7-chloro-4-(2-oxo-1-phenyl-3-pyrrolidinylidene)-1,2,3,4-tetrahydro-2-quinolinecarboxylic acid. This application is a continuation of U.S. Appl. No. 10/148,434, which is now U.S. Patent No. 6,713,491. The allowable claims in this case are claims 9-12, which are all directed to methods of using the above compound, previously patented in the parent application. Methods of treating irritable bowel syndrome and epilepsy using an excitatory amino acid antagonist are known in the art. In addition, the above mentioned compound is known in the art as having neuroprotective activity, and being a potent antagonist of the NMDA receptor complex. However the aspect of administering the instant (-)meglumine salt of 7-chloro-4-(2-oxo-1-phenyl-3-pyrrolidinylidene)-1,2,3,4-tetrahydro-2-quinoline-carboxylic acid, to treat irritable bowel syndrome or epilepsy is novel and unobvious. After a thorough search, the closest of prior art, Di Fabio et al, US Pat. No's 6,362,199 and 6,413,985, were found to teach similar tetrahydroquinoline compounds that are potent antagonists of the NMDA receptor complex. However the genus of compounds taught in the reference patents do not teach or render obvious the use of the instant claimed enantiomer of the meglumine salt of the compounds for treating irritable bowel syndrome or epilepsy, which distinguishes them from the instant invention.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
